Benefits cheat had £12,000 in savings

A DISABLED woman who falsely claimed thousands of pounds in benefits despite having £12,000 in savings has escaped a jail sentence.

Ipswich Crown Court heard that Janet Howe is now homeless and spends four days a week sleeping rough, as she has been reduced to living on just £37 a month state aid.

She cannot get more help because she has £12,000 locked in an investment account which she cannot access for another two years.

Howe, 47, of Haverhill, admitted falsely claiming more than £7,000 over four years and was sentenced to four months in prison, suspended for 18 months.

She pleaded guilty at a previous hearing to six offences of dishonestly making false representation to obtain housing benefit from St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The offences spanned more than four years from June 2000 to October 2004 and involved her falsely claiming a total of £7,312.

Howe, formerly of Garrett Close, Haverhill, who has been in receipt of benefits for 20 years because of poor health, had initially been entitled to housing benefit but in 2000 failed to disclose on an application form submitted to the council that she had by then amassed £8,000 in savings.

By 2004 the sum being held on deposit by Howe had reached £28,000 but she did not disclose it.

Jonathan Goodman, prosecuting, said: "She dishonestly neglected to tell the truth about her finances. It is right to say it is known that she has a long history of mental disability."

Claire Donovan, appearing for Howe, said that since becoming homeless Howe had spent three nights a week with friends but was forced to sleep rough on other nights.

Helping hands back our hospice appeal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

VOLUNTEERS at the St Nicholas Hospice shop in Haverhill are getting a good response to the Weekly News Hospice at Home Appeal and are all backing the campaign.

The High Street shop, opposite the arts centre, has been running for six years, and manager Jayne Moreton keeps it spotlessly clean and full of high quality goods with the help of a team of 18 dedicated volunteers.

They were delighted by the launch of the appeal to raise £40,000 for St Nicholas Hospice so that patients from the Haverhill area can receive treatments and therapies in their own homes, rather than having to travel to Bury St Edmunds.

The appeal has already passed the £3,500 mark and more donations and offers of help are coming in all the time.

Mrs Moreton said: "We have had lots of people bringing in money for the appeal already and it is early days yet. Everybody is of a like mind here, that Hospice at Home gives people the opportunity to stay in their own homes and receive services there, which is very important to them."

"The teamwork here is excellent. Everybody does a bit of everything. People volunteer for a lot of different reasons, sometimes to get over a bereavement or if they are new to the area and don't know anybody. We help them and they help us."

Janet Sawyer, who has been a volunteer in the shop for four years also bakes cakes and sells them at AXA Insurance in aid of the hospice. She said: "I retired and I went on a cruise, then when I got home I was really miserable. I started here and I now wonder how I ever had time to work."

Ken Dennison, 68, is the only male volunteer at the shop, but does not mind being surrounded by women. He said: "What a lucky fella, who wants to be surrounded by ugly men. It gets me out of the house and is a very worthwhile cause."

Pat Woodbridge is another volunteer and her grandson Aaron Williams, 13, also helps out in his spare time. She said: "I just thought it was a good thing to do and we have quite a laugh in here sometimes."

Jean Ager, 72, started at the shop when Haverhill's Oxfam shop closed and enjoys her role. "I wanted another job to get out and meet people and this is more local."

Margaret Palmer had worked behind a counter in the former PBM shop for 22 years before becoming a volunteer.

She said: "I think the appeal is a wonderful idea. To travel into Bury and back when you need to visit someone is a nightmare. There are no buses and if you have not got transport you are stuck."

Donations to the appeal can be made at the shop. Anyone interested in volunteering should contact Jayne on (01440) 702333.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fundraising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause?

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An online donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

False claimant must repay cash

Howe also had £5,525 in another bank account which could be immediately accessed to pay compensation. Howe appreciated that what she had done was wrong, said Miss Donovan.

Sentencing Howe, Judge John Devaux said Howe had been well aware of what she was doing when she made the false claims.

In addition to the suspended prison sentence, Judge Devaux told Howe that she would remain under Probation Service supervision for 18 months. She has also been ordered to immediately pay £5,000 compensation to St Edmundsbury Borough Council with the balance of £2,312 being due in 2010 when she gains access to her investment.

Pupils head for Wild West

IT WILL be "California here we come" for a group of students and their teachers later this month.

A group of 36 students and six members of staff from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill will be going on the trip of a lifetime to the USA from March 20-28.

The trip to Los Angeles and the "Wild West", will involve the students travelling from Los Angeles to Phoenix.

Throughout the eight-day tour the group will see and experience some of America's most well-known and beautiful places and landscapes.

The trip will begin in Los Angeles where students will have a guided sightseeing tour of some of the cities most famous sights, including the Hollywood Bowl, Beverly Hills, Rodeo Drive and the Oscars red carpet. Students will also experience a day at Universal Studios.

The group will then travel to Las Vegas, where they will spend an evening marvelling at this unique and ever-changing city, before travelling on to the Colorado River where students will have an opportunity to experience river rafting.

From here the group will travel to what is arguably the highlight of the trip – a visit to the geological wonder and awe-inspiring spectacle of the Grand Canyon. The final stages of the tour will enable students to visit the 1000-year old Montezuma Castle, built into a towering cliff, before travelling on to Phoenix for the flight home.

Caroline Taylor, the teacher organising the trip, said: "The planning and preparation for this trip has been going on for over 12 months."

"As our departure date draws closer, the excitement and anticipation amongst the students is increasing."

"It is hoped that the experiences and memories from this trip will remain with the students for the rest of their lives."

School closure may face legal challenge

THE battle to save Clare Middle School has been lost after councillors voted to go ahead with plans to close it – along with all other middle schools in Suffolk.

Members of Suffolk County Council's cabinet agreed at their meeting on Tuesday to adopt recommendations to close Clare Middle School, along with Parkway, Chalkstone and Castle Hill middle schools in Haverhill, and expand Haverhill's two upper schools.

Parents from Clare had launched a last ditch attempt to persuade councillors to change their mind and convert Clare Middle School into a third upper school for the area. But the bid failed despite efforts by local councillor Jane Midwood to persuade cabinet members to listen to the Clare community.

However campaigners have vowed not to give up the fight and are looking into the possibility of taking legal action.

Jim Meikle, chairman of Clare and Local Area for Rural Education, said he was not surprised by the decision, describing it as "a foregone conclusion".

He said: "We are not disappointed at all, we knew before the consultation process that this was going to happen."

"They went through a paper exercise of consulting us, but they did not listen to anything we said or answer any of the questions we raised."

"It flies in the face of the whole education policy of the county council and the district plan. We are by no means giving up the fight, we are looking at four different options and have funding for legal action."

"This is purely cost driven because the county council is in trouble, it has nothing to do with quality of education. They have not got the money to do it and out of 200 applications for Building Schools for the Future funding last year only seven have been completed."

Haverhill and Lowestoft would be the first schools

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

reorganised, with the new format due to be in place by 2011. The middle schools will close in 2010.

Councillors agreed that Haverhill's Burton End Primary School would remain where it is and not move to the Parkway Middle School site.

Westfield Primary would move to either the Chalkstone Middle School or Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College sites.

Cllr Patricia O'Brien, portfolio holder for children, schools and young people's services said: "The driving principle behind this has always been to improve educational opportunities for children in Suffolk, raising standards across the board and giving all children in the county an equal chance of a top-class education."

"Cabinet's approval of these papers, relating to school improvement and raising standards, is an important milestone on the road towards an education structure and services which will help Suffolk's young people reach their full potential."

She added: "The recommendations relating to the organisation of schools in the Lowestoft and Haverhill areas were developed following consultation with a number of local stakeholders and were then the subject of a public consultation lasting 12 weeks."

"To have emerged from this thorough consultation with such a consensus is a real success story."

"Options to establish a more flexible and integrated special education provision will be subject to a similar consultation process to allow all local people to have their say."

Public notices relating to the changes in school organisation will be published in April for all the recommendations for the Haverhill area, followed by a six-week period of representation. During this time, people will be able to comment on the proposals to the county council.

Police make pupils bright

YOUNGSTERS can be safely seen on their bikes after being presented with new lights at their school.

During the autumn term Year 4 pupils at New Cangle Primary school in Haverhill had the opportunity to learn about safer cycling through a scheme run by the county road safety team.

Those who completed the course were presented with a set of bicycle lights bought with the help of donations from County Councillor Tim Marks, Cambridge Assessment Centre and Chapman and Son's of Haverhill.

Lyn Beale, headteacher at New Cangle Community Primary School, said: "Members of the public had raised concerns with the police about young people riding around the streets in various parts of the town without lights on their bikes."

"They asked whether the police would be able to help before one of them was seriously hurt."

Appeal to catch bonnet-bouncing vandal

HAVERHILL Police have seen a recent increase in incidents involving criminal damage to parked vehicles and are asking for help in catching the culprits.

Last Friday, police received a report that a group of around 10 rowdy youths were heading towards the town centre from Chauntry Road at about 10.30pm.

In the morning, it was discovered that the offside wing mirrors on a Peugeot 106 and a Peugeot 306 were damaged.

In the early hours of Sunday morning, further reports were received of a boisterous group of four or five males in their mid to late teens making their way down Howe Road, Haverhill, and a youth was seen jumping on bonnets of parked cars. Four cars parked in the road had sustained dents and scratches.

The youth seen jumping on the cars is described as 5ft 8in tall and wearing a black top with a white hood.

That afternoon, criminal damage was caused to a parked vehicle in Bourne Road, this time the vehicle sustained scratching to the boot area.

Haverhill Police are anxious to speak to anybody who may have seen anything relating to any of these crimes, or if they have information about the youths that make their way through the Howe Road area towards the fields at the end of the road.

Anyone with information can phone Haverhill police on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Haverhill

THE monthly meeting of Haverhill & District U3A (University of the Third Age) was held at the Arts Centre on Tuesday morning, when the large turnout of members was welcomed by the chairman Aldine Horrigan, who stressed the importance of the AGM to be held on March 25. It was vitally important that members put their names forward to serve as officers and on the committee, as seven were due for retirement this year. It was essential for the future of the branch that members put their names forward to either serve as officers or on the committee, as without a committee the branch could not function. Those prepared to put their names forward for office should contact the chairman well before the March meeting by calling (01440) 702497.

The speaker for the evening was Alan Fish from the Stowmarket branch of the Royal Naval Lifeboat Institute (RNLI), assisted by Paul, chairman of the Stowmarket branch, who had brought along an interesting display of equipment, including the yellow helmet, visible from a considerable distance and very helpful in emergencies.

The speakers gave their services free of charge, in return for being allowed to circulate collection tins for the funds of the RNLI. They explained that the organisation has some 4,500 volunteers who carry out rescue work around our shores, plus 2,800 shore helpers and 56,000 volunteer fundraisers as they lack Government funding. The crews are trained for all

Giving a glossy performance

STUDENTS from West Suffolk College have been rolling up their sleeves to help elderly and disabled residents decorate their homes. Seven students working towards a qualification in painting and decorating have gained valuable work experience in the process, after linking up with Havebury Housing Partnership. Havebury arranged for them to carry out jobs in residents' homes as part of its 'Supported Decorating Scheme' for residents aged 60 years and over or those with disabilities.

eventualities on the 370 lifeboats stationed around the country.

Alan was thanked for a most interesting and informative talk and complimented on the work of his organisation.

Mrs Horrigan thanked all for their support during her term of office in the chair and hoped sufficient volunteers would come forward to fill the vacancies at the AGM. For those members interested in forming a U3A choir, it is regretted a wrong contact number was printed in the January News and Views. It should have been (01799) 584188.

The Book Lovers Group had been reading two very contrasting books with mixed feelings.

Group 1 had been reading Louis De Berniere's Birds Without Wings, set in a small village in Turkey from 1900, through the First World War, concerning the lives and loves of the villagers. Views on it were mixed.

The same could be said by Group 2, for although the book The Shipping News had won the Pulitzer Prize and other literary awards, it was found to be a depressing and difficult book to digest.

Despite a doubtful forecast the rain held off for the Mud 'n' Grub group for their walk around Ickworth in February, followed by lunch at The Beehive in Horringer. Their next walk this month will be around Nowton Park and Hardwick Heath, starting from the free car park at Nowton Park.

The Walking, Talking and Munching group's walks are described as "three and a bit" miles, though no-one seems to mind how long a bit is, so long as the group is back to the pub in time for lunch. The next walk, on Monday, March 17 will be the traditional one around Ixworth Park, where it is hoped to see the newborn lambs. Meet in Ixworth car park at 10.30am and eat afterwards in the West Wing Restaurant.

Gardening Group 1 attended a talk in February at Scotsdale's Nurseries and was given a most interesting talk by Peter Jackson, plus a question and answer session. The March meeting will be at 7 Ganwick Close at 10am to discuss the year's programme.

The first meeting of the Church Crawlers on March 27 will be at the home of Anne Roberts, Willow Hall, Thurlow, at 10am. Those interested in attending, please contact Norma Poole on (01440) 703010.

The next branch outing will be to the Queen's Theatre, London, on April 9 at 2.30pm, departing from Haverhill Bus Station at noon and costs £35. A few seats are still available. Please contact Margaret Stary on (01440) 702688.

■ A winter supper, organised by the Parish Church Restoration Committee and friends, was held at the Community Centre on Friday evening, attended by 65 members and supporters. An excellent three-course meal had been prepared by members and friends. The event, billed as "An Evening at the Races", organised by Steve Brown, had a large screen showing three races, and four bookies taking bets. A number of supporters had come appropriately dressed for the occasion.

Police hold briefing

OFFICERS of Haverhill's town centre Safer Neighbourhood Team will be holding a street briefing outside the Co-op store in Jubilee Walk on Monday at 7pm.

Pc Sonia Plume, who will be there with PCSO Les Scott, said: "We run them at Havebury and in the arts centre during the day, but we thought that those who work miss out so this is to enable them to meet members of the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood, have a chat and raise any issues. Les and I cover the town but will happily pass anything on to other members of the team."

Fraud mum hid cash for children

A WOMAN who failed to declare she had £43,000 stashed away for her children has been convicted of benefit fraud.

Mother-of-five Jacqueline Macnamara, 57, denied four charges of making a false statement to obtain benefit when she appeared at Sudbury Magistrates' Court, but was found guilty of the offences.

Malcolm Plummer, prosecuting for St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said more than £21,000 which Mrs Macnamara and her husband Michael had been overpaid in housing and Council Tax benefits had been repaid.

Macnamara, of Paske Avenue,

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Haverhill, told the court the money was cash which her children had earned doing paper rounds and other jobs, as well as money they had inherited from their grandmother.

Macnamara described her husband as a gambler, with a temper. She was scared of him and had not told him about the cash.

Even though her children were now in their 30s, she had continued to hold the money in her name for them and said she did not declare it because it was not hers.

She said: "I never classed that money as mine, even though it was in my name. The children did not want it in their names because they would have spent it."

Nick Wray, defending, said the former school dinner lady had given up her job to be with her retired husband, currently in Addenbrooke's Hospital for cancer treatment.

Mr Wray said: "She truly believed this to be the children's money and dealt with it as such. There was never any plan to deceive the local authority to get benefits the family were not entitled to."

Magistrates adjourned her case for sentence until March 27 so pre-sentence reports could be prepared.

Burglar told jail is an option

A PROLIFIC burglar who was caught by DNA from blood left at the scene of a break-in at a primary school has been warned that he may face jail.

Stephen Ellis, 37, admitted three offences of burglary and asked for another 19 to be taken into consideration when he appeared before magistrates at Sudbury on Tuesday.

Rosalind Clark, prosecuting, told the court that a series of burglaries had taken place between September last year and January this year. DNA from blood found after a break-in at Lakenheath Primary School in December was linked to Ellis, as well as a footwear print at the scene. A window was smashed to get into the building, causing £500 damage, but only around £2 in change was stolen.

When arrested by police, Ellis of Heathersett Way, Red Lodge, admitted the offence, as well as one at a shop in Monks Eleigh where he stole £200 and another in High Street, Needham Market, where he stole £1,086.

Ellis, who has previous convictions for burglary and robbery, was driven around the district by police and pointed out a number of other commercial premises where he had committed burglaries, including one at Clare.

David Stewart, for Ellis, said his client was a professional carer for his wife, who had been paralysed from the neck down after a traffic accident in 2001. Ellis had turned to online gambling and incurred debts, which was why he committed the offences.

Magistrates adjourned his case until April 3 at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates Court for an all options pre-sentence report.

David Daniels, chairman of the bench, warned Ellis that imprisonment was an option because of a number of aggravating features, including the number of offences he had committed, the damage he had caused to premises, his previous record and the failure of previous sentences imposed on him.

Mr Daniels said: "You committed these offences intentionally and there are no mitigating features. We think these matters are so serious we must consider passing a custodial sentence."

Council plan under fire

LABOUR members of Suffolk County Council have criticised plans by the Conservative administration to spend £612 million on an incinerator.

They say similar schemes in Norfolk and Essex had to be abandoned due to public pressure.

At a recent budget meeting, more than £1 million was set aside for this year to prepare the case for the incinerator – which Labour councillors argued should be spent instead on social services.

Cllr Sandy Martin, Labour group spokesman for the environment, said: "I do not believe anybody in Suffolk would accept an incinerator on their doorstep."

"I am sure that in the end this ludicrous plan will have to be ditched."

Police giving good service

Sir, On Thursday, February 21, the Conservative councillors of Suffolk County Council rejected a modest inflation-related Council Tax precept increase of 2.9 per cent, proposed by Labour councillors, and voted for a 3.75 per cent increase. This means a band D Council Tax payer will pay £38.70 more per year. This is additional funding to a £10 million-plus extra payment from Government to support county spending. The following day, the Chief Constable of Suffolk strongly recommended an increase on the police precept which for a band D property would be just £12.33, or 24p per week. Initially, all the Conservative councillors on the Police Authority refused to support this, but at the final vote only Cllr Mark Bee would not support the Chief Constable's recommendation.

Suffolk Police have served our county with exceptional dedication, as is evidenced by the outcome of the Ipswich murders trial, which concluded just before the Police Authority budget meeting. Yet this is against a backdrop of Suffolk Constabulary being one of the lowest-funded police forces in the country, with the 'thin blue line' stretched further here than in all but two counties. I do not like personal attacks in politics, but I completely fail to grasp why Cllr Mark Bee thinks it is acceptable to take £38.70 from us to support a budget that will pay for huge expenditure on consultants, a PR campaign to make us think an incinerator is a good idea, and a "brand manager" for Suffolk County Council, but cannot support a 24p per week increase to enable Suffolk Police to continue the excellent service that they have given us.

Council rejects bid to reduce tax hike

THE Conservative administration at Suffolk County Council rejected an amendment to its budget proposed by the Labour group calling for a lower Council Tax increase.

Labour's amendment, which also proposed the reinstatement of £4.3 million funding due to be cut from the county's social care budget, was dismissed by the Conservatives.

The group eventually approved an increase of 3.75 per cent – less than last year's 4.5 per cent hike.

Cllr Jeremy Pembroke, leader of Suffolk County Council, said: "We're one of the top performing authorities in the country with one of the lowest Council Tax increases.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"You asked us to keep the Council Tax as low as possible while providing good value for money services. I believe we have struck this balance."

The Labour amendment sought a Council Tax rise of 2.9 per cent and a halt to £500,000 of spending on consultants and additional spending on projects such as an incinerator.

Kevan Lim, deputy leader of the county council's Labour group, said: "In voting through their budget, the Conservatives have refused to stray from the path they've followed since they took control of the council – a lack of vision leading to waste, inefficiency and cuts to vital services.

"While the Conservatives spend millions on consultants while cutting services, the Labour group's priorities will continue to be a fair deal for Council Tax payers while supporting the county's most vulnerable."

Cllr Jane Storey, the council's portfolio holder for resource management and transformation, said: "We knew that people wanted us to keep the increase in Council Tax as low as possible and once again we have delivered on that commitment.

"Where we have received extra cash, we have invested in services highlighted by the public as a priority, such as community safety, care and support of the elderly, road and pavement repairs and public transport."

Cook's class for yummy mummies

SCRUMPTIOUS dishes have been served up by mums who joined a club run by the cook at their children's school.

The mums have been getting some expert advice from Sharon Foulkes, who has been school cook at Westfield Primary School in Haverhill for the past five years.

The school has organised a crèche for the Wednesday afternoon sessions so that younger children can be cared for while their parents are in the kitchen, learning how to whip up biscuits, lemon meringue pies and casseroles.

Jill Lightfoot, a teacher at the school, said the club had been extremely successful.

She said: "Sharon has been teaching them all kinds of things and the husbands and partners say it has been fantastic.

"She has shown them how you can cook a meal for £3, which is much cheaper and tastier than takeaways.

"Even the children say it has been really good since their mums starting coming."

Pupils tuck into chocolate event

AN AWFUL lot of chocolate has been consumed by pupils at an upper school – but it was all in a good cause. Pupils at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill have been marking national Fairtrade Fortnight by selling chocolate in their break times and at their conference centre. Pupils quickly reduced the stock of about £900 worth of chocolate, which the school agreed to sell. The chocolate has been produced by countries which are receiving extra cash for supplying it. A spokesman for the school said a large amount of the chocolate had been sold in just two days. She said: "It is going really well and is being well supported. "We wanted to do something to encourage Fairtrade and the chocolate is absolutely delicious." The event was organised by Kerrie Cavilla, head of geography, who said she wanted to promote awareness of the importance of being an ethical shopper in Haverhill. She said: "Fairtrade is important as it guarantees a better deal for Third World producers. It is Fairtrade Fortnight and Samuel Ward is supporting OXFAM

(Cambridge) and Fairtrade in raising awareness, and money, for Fairtrade. "Year 9 pupils created promotional posters in a 'Development' unit of study when learning about the unfairness of global trade – particularly coffee and cocoa. "There has been huge support from all year groups and they appreciate the benefits of buying Fairtrade – however, it also raises the question of 'why do we have to pay to be ethical shoppers?' "Shouldn't all farmers be paid a fair deal by large multinational companies like Cadburys?"

Sponsors step up for awards

A SUPERMARKET giant will be the lead sponsor for the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce's CB9 Business awards.

Tesco, which is due to start work on building a new store in Haverhill later this year, was announced as the main sponsor for the awards, organised in association with the Weekly News, by Sarah Howard, secretary of the chamber, at its February meeting.

The firm will also sponsor the Business of the Year Award. The winner of the top award will be selected from entries to all 11 categories.

Ms Howard said: "The chamber is very excited at this news. Tesco has said they want to see Haverhill grow and prosper and that they are pleased to join in the recognition of those companies that are making it happen."

"The diversity of our sponsors for the 2008 awards again reflects the range of industry and enterprise in Haverhill. We have household names like Tesco, Natwest and Barclays and small independent companies such as M & M Leisure and Printwise.

"There are the relative newcomers to Haverhill, like the Days Inn, Haverhill Business Park and Sigma Genosys, and our long-established Haverhill businesses such as Gramplan, Genzyme, IFF, MENTA and West Suffolk College.

"Through their sponsorship of the CB9 Business Awards all these companies are making a positive contribution to the celebration of business excellence in our town."

Michael Kissman, corporate affairs manager for Tesco, said: "We are delighted to support this year's CB9 Business Awards.

"The Haverhill Chamber of Commerce has done a great job of representing local businesses and working with Tesco to help shape our plans for a new supermarket in the town.

"Tesco wants to see Haverhill grow and prosper and we are pleased to join in the recognition of those companies that are making it happen."

Entry to the awards is free and the deadline for entries and nominations is March 31 2008.

For entry forms or details about the awards and the dinner, contact Jo Morgan on (01638) 66614. Forms are also available at www.cb9businessawards.co.uk

■ At its January meeting, the chamber launched the Weekly News Hospice at Home Appeal for St Nicholas Hospice with a cheque for £1,707.

This money, in addition to the money raised at the 2005 awards' gala dinner, took the total money donated to St Nicholas from the last awards to £5,184.

Organisers are hoping that with the support of local businesses they can raise more for St Nicholas at the 2008 awards.

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%).

The Net rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our Hallmark monthly interest option.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Mini Cash and TESSA Only Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs), and Cash Child Trust Fund accounts, pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%). Tax assumptions are based on current legislation which may change in the future. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches. Cambridge Building Society complies with The Banking Code.

NOTICE TO EXISTING BORROWERS

With effect from 6th March 2008, the rate of interest for mortgages will decrease by 0.25% per annum until further notice. The revised Variable Home Loan Rate (equivalent to Standard Variable Rate) will be 6.45% p.a. The revised Commercial Base Rate, for non owner-occupied residential loans, will be 6.95% p.a. Under the annual review system, this change of interest will be reflected in the revised monthly payments effective from March 2009.

This notice does not apply to any mortgage account operated by interim review. Those borrowers will be notified separately.

If you have any queries about this rate change, please contact your nearest branch or telephone our Customer Services Department on 01223 727727

About the Great Daffodil Appeal

The Great Daffodil Appeal is our flagship fundraising event and takes place every March. The idea is to get everyone across the UK to give donations for daffodil badges and wear them with pride. And because it's Marie Curie Cancer Care's 60th anniversary, we want you to help us make this the best year ever.

Each daffodil grants a last wish

Every donation made for a daffodil means more time for our Marie Curie Nurses to spend caring for terminally ill cancer patients at home. When you're dying of cancer, you want nothing more than to be in the comfort of your own home, surrounded by the people and things you love.

Our nurses are able to turn this wish into a reality by giving hands on, individual care and emotional support to cancer patients in their homes. This service is absolutely free to our patients, so we rely heavily on donations. By taking part whatever way you can in the Great Daffodil Appeal, you'll help our nurses to continue improving the lives of terminally ill people and their families.

Marie Curie Cancer Care provides high-quality nursing, totally free, to people with terminal cancer and other illnesses the choice of dying at home, supported by their families. Research commissioned by Marie Curie Cancer Care shows that 64% of people would choose to die at home. In reality only 24% achieve this.

10% of proceeds made on this page will go to the Great Daffodil Appeal.

Chance for young to get a healthy start

AN EVENT to help young people look after their health and well-being is being staged in Haverhill.

As part of its drive to combat social exclusion, the Foyer Federation has secured funding from the Big Lottery Fund's well-being programme to launch Foyer Health, and the event at the Cangle Foyer is part of the programme.

To launch the programme, Cangle Foyer will be hosting a Health Fayre on Wednesday, March 19, from 11am-3pm.

This will be an opportunity to meet organisations involved in Foyer Health and engage in taster sessions, such as facials, manicures, hair styling, body combat and body balance, meditation and smoothie tasting.

The three-year Foyer programme promotes the importance of health and well-being for young people, using a variety of approaches, including life coaching and enterprise education, to achieve a lasting impact.

The programme results from research that has shown one in five of 14 to 30-year-olds in the UK struggles to make a healthy transition from adolescence to independent adulthood.

As a direct result of this social exclusion many young people are being denied access to the skills, resources and opportunities necessary to successfully transform their lives.

Cangle Foyer's specialist support worker Helga Bailey said: "We want to empower young people to take a healthy step forward and make informed choices about healthy living."

"With the help of many external agencies such as West Suffolk College, Abbeycroft Leisure and West Suffolk MIND, we will enable young people to develop the knowledge and skills to make the right choices about their health and well-being."

Light refreshments and a healthy buffet lunch will be available during the free launch at Cangle Junction, Witherfield Road, Haverhill, between 11am and 3pm.

The programme starts on March 26 with a course on food and mood, followed by a healthy eating cooking club which is already fully subscribed.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College

DURING the last week, students of all years had the chance to buy Fairtrade products during break time. This meant that prices were at a level which was fair both to the customers and the farmers, thus ensuring that the farmer received a fair price for his product.

The event was a great success and this will encourage pupils to think about how these products will help farmers to succeed in their business.

■ Last Friday, Year 9 students were involved in a workshop that enabled them to develop their work skills.

This featured activities such as team building and improving hand-eye co-ordination. Students also learned to use the new University Virtual Learning Environment which can be accessed at home as well as school.

■ Year 10 catering students will be completing their first GCSE practical in the next two weeks. They have to prepare two pasta dishes which would be suitable to be served in Bella Pasta.

Hairdresser takes her salon on the road

A Hairdresser who got tired of sitting in a traffic jam travelling to work at a salon in Cambridge decided to use her talents nearer home by setting up her own mobile business.

That was over a year ago and now Louise has made a real success of her venture, " I decided to start my own mobile hairdressing here in Haverhill and surrounding villages - but with a difference. I give high quality service, using only professional products at a reasonable price. Just the sort of service you would expect from a good quality salon."

Louise, 32, took up hairdressing five years ago and is fully insured and up to date with the latest styles and trends, but she is also happy to do the more traditional styling for her older customers.

Louise covers all areas of Haverhill, as well as villages towards Saffron Walden, Horseheath and Linton and is willing to travel reasonable distances, she is also flexible about her working hours. For appointments and advice ring 07919 185306.

COMPANY PROFILE

Michelle and Lisa started helping hands just over a year ago. They have built up a good reputation and have a strong client base of domestic and commercial clients.

Easter egg run will brighten day

MOTORCYCLISTS from Haverhill will be getting on their bikes later this month to put a smile on the faces of some children with disabilities.

Haverhill and District Motorcycle Club is organising its annual Easter egg collection in aid of the Priory School at Bury St Edmunds. A cavalcade of motorcycles will deliver the eggs on Tuesday, March 18, leaving the Aldi car park in Ehringshausen Way, Haverhill at 6.15am.

The Priory School has boarding pupils and day students, and specialises in looking after individual and specialist needs of children who have complex to moderate learning difficulties. They provide activities and support as well as academic tuition.

Non-club members riding any sized bike are welcome on the run, as long as they bring along an egg or two. Donated eggs of any size can be dropped off at Saffron Building Society, ABC Taxi office or the Haverhill PCV Bureau in Homefield Road.

Molly Daly, pictured sitting on her father Lee's Honda motorcycle with some of the eggs donated last year, is a day student at the Priory School and has to make the 17-mile trip every day.

A spokesman for the club said: "We hope to collect as many eggs as possible to bring some fun and laughter to these children's faces. They will be transported to the school by car and the motorcycles will follow, come rain or shine."

For more information, contact Glen Boyle on 07970 209165.

Don't leave valuables on show in car

TWO police officers in Haverhill were horrified to see the number of bags left on view inside cars in the town centre while they were out on patrol.

Community Support Officer Les Scott and Pc Sonia Plume spotted bags and other valuables such as satellite navigation systems on view in parked vehicles.

They want to remind people to either take their valuables out of their cars when leaving them or to lock them in the boot.

Arson arrest youth freed without charge

POLICE are renewing their appeals for information about a spate of criminal damage in Haverhill last month – including an arson attack from which a family of five had a narrow escape – after deciding that a 16-year-old arrested at the time will not face charges.

More than 70 vehicles were damaged and several bins set alight overnight between February 9 and February 10. The bin fires included one outside the home of the Walpole family in Lanseer Court, who could have been trapped in their home if they had not been woken by a neighbour.

On Tuesday, a 16-year-old youth from the town, arrested on suspicion of committing criminal damage, had his bail cancelled. Police are renewing their appeal for information following the crime spate.

A Suffolk Police spokesman said CID and uniformed officers were investigating. They had carried out house-to-house and CCTV inquiries and spoken to people who were in the area when the crimes were committed. Posters have also been put up appealing for information, and additional patrols have been carried out in affected areas.

Calls about these incidents should be made to Pc Stuart Wilson at the Haverhill South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Beware a fat man in pinstripes

SUFFOLK Police are keen to trace the driver of a white Transit van who called at a house last Friday.

The man called at an address in Birdbrook, north Essex, just after midday.

He is described as white, fat, with greying hair and wearing pinstripe trousers. As soon as the occupant mentioned the police, the man drove away in the direction of Haverhill. The vehicle's registration was MJ51AFU.

Following this police issued a warning saying that bogus callers operate over a wide area and it was possible that this man, if he was a bogus caller, may turn up in Suffolk.

Anyone who answers the door to a man of this description, or sees the van, should call 999 immediately, if possible quoting event 188.

People are reminded not to let anyone into their home that they are not completely happy with and to always ask for identification.

Also, if someone unexpected calls it is advisable to lock the back door before answering the front door.

Fun begins as tiny village opens its first playground

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

■ MY TURN . . . MP Richard Spring tries out the slide.

AFTER almost two years of fundraising, children at the tiny village of Stoke by Clare will be able to have plenty of fun this summer on brand new playground.

An official opening was recently held for the playground, attended by MP Richard Spring and some of the funding groups.

Kelly Haines, playground committee member, said they had finally raised enough money through fundraising, grants and donations to build the playground.

She said: "This is the first playground we have had in Stoke so everybody is very excited. To keep the children involved we ran a drawing competition for the top prizewinner to open the playground."

The playground is behind Church Park on part of the football field.

The playground committee was formed in 2006 after Gordon Hatchett of the parish council got some parents together. The playground is mostly grant funded, although there were donations from residents and local business and two fundraising events have been held so far.

The playground is being built in two phases, the first phase with the majority of the equipment has been installed at a cost of £51,181. The second phase will see an aerial runway installed for the older children.

Among the funders were the Local Network Fund, which paid for the Freckleton climbing frame, Suffolk Environmental Trust Locality fund gave £2,000, Havebury and Stoke by Clare Parish Council gave £10,000 and paid for the ROSPA inspector.

Mr Spring said: "I would like to pay tribute to the members of the playground committee and all those who have played a part in bringing this 18-month project to fruition."

King of swing returns

MAESTRO of swing and jazz, Ray Gelato, returns to Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday with his Giants in Swing Italiano.

1950s Vegas comes to town with the evening of classic Italian-American swing. Gelato and his Giants evoke the easy style and showmanship popularised by Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra and Louis Prima.

Gelato's distinctive vocal style and world-class tenor sax playing have made him an attraction the world over. One of the most entertaining shows on the jazz circuit, it will start at 8pm.

■ There is another screening of The Kite Runner (12A) on Friday at 7.45pm. A subtitled adaptation of Khaled Hosseini's much admired novel, it follows one boy's fearful act of betrayal that will mark two lives forever and set in motion an epic quest for redemption.

■ Centre Stage Company is back at the arts centre with Outside Edge, a comedy by Richard Harris about life, cricket and other important stuff. It centres on Roger, a man obsessed, with leading his team to victory over the British Railways Maintenance Division Yeading East. There are performances on Thursday, March 13, to Saturday, March 15, at 7.30pm.

■ To book tickets, phone (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhill-artscentre.co.uk

Acoustic aristocracy revisit their roots

VETERANS of the Cambridge music scene Ezio will be playing a double header at The Boathouse on the city's Mitcham's Corner this week. The acoustic folk rockers feature the guitar maestro Mark "Booga"

Fowell and songwriter Ezio Lunedi and have been playing together for more than 15 years. They will be playing The Boathouse on Saturday ahead of the release of a live album and DVD which was recorded in Germany.

The band has a solid following in Europe but will be attempting to spread the love a little further when they head out to America in June. "We're trying to get a foothold there but it is so ridiculously vast. We'll just start on the East Coast and stay for a couple of weeks working our way along," says Booga. "It should be great, and hopefully the start of something new and exciting." Tickets for the Boathouse are £10.

Footballers' lives and great chemistry

By Nik Shelton

WITH a number one debut album under their belts The Hoosiers are obviously doing something right.

The three-piece band's first album The Trick to Life was a runaway success and helped them launch what they like to call Odd-Pop.

"I don't have just one genre of music in my tape collection," says drummer Alfonso Sharland. "I didn't grow up just wanting to be The Cure, Jeff Buckley, The Flaming Lips or XTC.

"We didn't always feel like just playing Brit-pop or whatever. This was a huge problem for us in terms of finding our sound."

Alfonso and lead singer Irwin Sparkes grew up together on the outskirts of Reading and at the tender age of 16 they found tutorage from an unlikely source.

"How can you write about life when you haven't lived it? Go live, then write about it."

The wise words came from Irwin's chemistry teacher – also the drummer from 70s group Sailor.

So they took his advice and went off on a road-trip to America.

Along the way they found themselves at the University of Indianapolis after they were both offered football scholarships there.

■ ROAD TRIP... The Hoosiers' tour rolls into Cambridge on Monday.

"After a year of tasting life in the Mid-West of America, we'd had enough of that," Alfonso says. "Something clicked and I guess we both knew we had to go home and get all these songs out. That and we were asked to leave the university.

"To get started in London we needed to assemble a crack team of musical commandos.

"We were up cack-alley, booked in a studio under Brick Lane with a bassist that had ceased to exist – he'd done one on us and who should be the engineering assistant but Martin Skarendahl. I could have sworn he was shimmering from an ethereal haze the day we met his ugly mug."

The new friends bashed out a catchy bag of pop melodies, including the stomping radio hit Worried About Ray and the rest, as they say, is history.

The Hoosiers are at the Cambridge Corn Exchange on Monday. To book call (01223) 357851.

Modern executive home

BALMFORTH Estate Agents are pleased to offer this smart, modern well presented two bedroom terrace property built by Bloor Homes in recent years at £152,995.

This executive design gives good size accommodation with the benefit of cloakroom and en suite to master bedroom and garage to rear.

With the benefit of double glazing and gas radiator central heating the accommodation comprises an entrance hall with cloakroom off, fitted kitchen, lounge/dining room, two good size bedrooms to first floor with en suite shower room to master and bathroom, front and rear gardens, garage and parking to rear.

Located in one of Haverhill's more private areas in the town, the property is conveniently located for easy access to the bypass making it ideal for the commuter. Within easy reach of the local schools and town centre where many of Haverhill's many amenities can be found which.

The property is to be found in good decorative order and is of high specification, and we would highly recommend an internal inspection to appreciate the location and accommodation on offer.

An exceptional period cottage

THIS exceptionally well renovated and significantly extended period cottage is in Taylors Farm Road in the village of Kedington. A guide price of £345,000 is suggested for the property, which is set in one of the finest positions in the village. Originally a fairly modest shepherd's cottage, the property has been substantially enlarged and renovated by the present owners and now offers outstanding accommodation, finished to the highest standards throughout. There is an entrance hall, sitting room with oak flooring, dining room, superb kitchen with vaulted ceiling and granite work surfaces leading to a breakfast room with French doors to the garden, utility room, shower room, four bedrooms and a lovely bathroom. Outside, the property is set along a narrow and leafy no-through road. A block paved driveway provides parking for a number of cars, and there is a garden with an attractive paved seating area with timber pergola over, and a lawned garden area with a timber shed. There is a further paved garden area to the rear of the property, and the whole backs onto miles of open countryside. Viewing is by arrangement through Cheffins on (01440) 707076.

EGYPT FOR INVESTORS

Egypt's property market is booming again, for four reasons:

- Egypt offers excellent rental income returns.
- The Gulf is now exploding with new oil money, and sees Egypt as less risky than Lebanon or Jordan.
- Egypt has a rapidly-growing economy with a fast-growing outsourcing sector.
- There is enormous European interest in Red Sea property. (source global property guide, Feb '08)

Latest Merc's a C-Class apart

YOU could call the new C-Class estate a 50/50 sort of car.

Sales between retail and fleet customers will be about 50/50, the split between diesel engines and petrol will be about 50/50 and if you add up the extra amount of cargo space and compare it to the passenger space it is – you've guessed it – around 50/50!

As with all new Mercedes products it does not strike you as radically different, but if you put the profile of the new machine over the old, you will see a big increase in headroom at the rear, with a consequent ability to carry more.

These days you cannot claim to make an all-embracing estate if it will not hold a washing machine complete with its box and packing. Volvo's big estate does just that so the new Merc had to match it which, of course, it does.

In the case of the German manufacturer, it is treading a difficult tightrope. Of course the new car should continue to appeal to all those existing and loyal customers. But Mercedes is very keen that younger people should be attracted to the marque, and apparently the way you do this is to make the car look more aggressive.

So the top-of-the-range Sport versions of the new estate take the famous three-pointed star off the top of the bonnet and plant it in the middle of the radiator grill. The lines of the car are slightly adjusted too, so you can go out, be young, become upwardly mobile and exercise your aggression.

Having got its customers Mercedes is determined to keep them safe. Pre-Safe, which prepares car and passengers for an accident when hidden sensors detect the inevitable, is standard on all new models. The Adaptive Brake system, along with seven airbags and crash-responsive Neck-Pro front head restraints, all are included to make certain the owner and passengers return to replace their car with another of the same make.

There are three individual model lines, SE, Elegance and Sport, and a choice of eight engines, all of which have been reworked to provide more power and less fuel consumption.

The engine range consists of four petrol engines (one of which has two power variants) and two diesel (one with two different power outputs). There are two 1.8 four-cylinder petrol units and there are three V6 power units. The diesels include two 2.2-litre engines and one V6 three-litre.

Having driven most of the range I would think the 2.2-litre diesel offering 170bhp (there is an alternative at 136bhp) does everything you might need. It is smooth, refined, quiet and still knocks up a top speed of 139mph with consumption at 46.3 to the gallon.

BASICALLY . . .

Very much the C-Class estate as before so beloved of the English middle classes. This time round you get even more green wellie room.

USED CAR GUIDE

Skoda Octavia vRS

vRS Octavia is practical hot hatch

WOW – that's the verdict of anyone who's ever enjoyed the driving thrills the Octavia vRS has to offer, writes Mike Scialom.

The first hot saloons to roll off the production line in 2001 brought Skoda to the attention of hot hatch fans for the first time. It helped that the VW-owned marque enjoyed Golf underpinnings and the understated petrol-head cues did no harm to the core market either.

With the same 1.8-litre 180bhp unit used for the Golf GTi, the Seat Leon 20V and even the Audi TT, the prognosis was always going to be good for the Czech firm's first foray into the outside lane.

Boosted by 17-inch alloys, green brake callipers, spoiler, stainless steel exhaust and some cute badging, the Octavia vRS is aiming for Mondeo ST220 and Vectra VXR aficionados. Inside you get two-tone seats, metallic-effect trim and some leather – just to remind you that Skoda has some rally roots too.

The reason why you're likely to be able to pick up a bargain vRS is that Skoda prices have gradually been creeping up – the current vRS will set you back £17,725 – and that price increase hasn't quite been matched by the improved handling and on-road dynamics that you're guaranteed with Ford/Vauxhall options. So then it becomes a question of, if you really care about having hot hatch thrills on any road surface, are you prepared to pay the extra for the thoroughbred or will you settle for the nearly-there version?

Used prices are more rewarding for the original Octavia vRS which was produced between 2001 and 2005. In 2006 the updated version was introduced, and the styling appears to have become overly subdued – although the power is now provided by a 2.0-litre unit offering 197bhp and a convincing 206lb ft torque. What a pity the engine note doesn't reflect the beast within!

That the earlier model stands up to extended use is proven by the fact that several police forces adopted it, and it's a popular taxi option – and you can be sure that both of these sectors pick a motor that stands up to close scrutiny.

Get behind the wheel and you'll notice that the cabin layout, although efficient, lacks pizzazz. This is mirrored by the somewhat rubbery handling and the slightly unresponsive brakes. But these quibbles should be set next to the fact that this is a safe and sturdy motor – an odd mix for a performance car, but one that makes it a great used option.

RELIABLE cars from Hyundai and Kia come under the spotlight of buyer advice website UsedCarExpert.com.

The online outfit's Matt Tumbridge has this to say about the brands: "Cruising down a local bypass recently, I saw something I have never seen before – a Kia had broken down.

"I've seen almost every other car break down, but Kia and Hyundai always seem to just go," he adds.

Of course, it doesn't matter if they don't, reckons Tumbridge, as owners are unlikely to foot the bill: "Both brands come with long guarantees. Now, they are getting the hang of attractive design too, so it is worth giving them a second look when going to buy used."

That said, Tumbridge chooses three worth thinking about – "before everyone else catches on and prices rise".

■ Kia Sedona – "This is a great, big friendly people carrier, that always costs less," says Tumbridge. "Easy to live with, too, and it easily takes seven. But it is proving popular on the used market, so be careful what you pay," he warns.

Most economical model is the 2.9CRDi, returning an overall 36.2mpg, and best used buy is any of the post-2001 improved models, with at least SX spec.

UsedCarExpert.com lists 12 pre-buy checks, and sister operation Used Car Expert magazine prices a 2.9 CRDi from 2003, with just under 50k miles on the clock, at around £7,750.

■ Hyundai Santa Fe – "The new one looks much better, but the old shape has good qualities too," says Matt Tumbridge.

"You will find it a well-equipped and easy to live with 4x4. It is fine around town, although engines are a little thirsty. As ever, the low-image badge means lower prices," he adds.

Most economical model is the 2.0TD, with its average 37.2mpg, and the not-so-popular 2.7 V6 is the best used buy, as it gets leather trim and just about every extra.

UsedCarExpert.com has 10 fault checks listed, and Used Car Expert magazine prices a 2003 2.0 TD at around £7,600, provided mileage isn't much more than 45,000.

■ Hyundai Coupe – "This model is very pretty, and good for cruising if not hard driving," asserts Tumbridge. "The interior feels cheap, but, overall, this is a great-value package – and who cares about the badge?"

Most economical model is the 1.6, returning a 34mpg average, and best used buy is the 2.0 SE, and also the F2 limited edition models.

A g a i n , UsedCarExpert.com lists 10 pre-buy checks, and Used Car Expert magazine prices a 2004 2.0 SE, with 30,000 miles under its belt, at around £8,625.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A11 TRUNK ROAD
(SIX MILE BOTTOM, CAMBRIDGESHIRE)
(TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2008

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the A11 Trunk Road in the County of Cambridgeshire, to allow for the resurfacing and replacement road markings to the northbound exit slip road at the A11/A1304 Six Mile Bottom Junction to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works will take place over 3 nights starting on or after, Monday 10 March 2008 from 8pm Monday to Saturday finishing at 6am the following mornings. The Order will come into force on 7 March 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order will be to –

(a) impose a 50 miles per hour speed limit, in conjunction with a lane closure, on the A11 northbound carriageway from a point 2 kilometres south of the exit slip road at the A11/A1304 Six Mile Bottom Junction to that junction, and

(b) close the A11 northbound exit slip road at the A11/A1304 Six Mile Bottom Junction, diverting vehicles to the next junction then via the A14, A142 and A1304 back to Six Mile Bottom.

The temporary mandatory speed limit (which will not apply to emergency service vehicles), slip road and lane closures (which will not apply to emergency service, winter maintenance or works vehicles) and diversion routes, will be clearly signposted throughout the duration of the works.

The Insolvency Act 1986
MACKENZIE CLARKE LIMITED
(Company Number 04374165)

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Section 98 of the Insolvency Act 1986, that a meeting of creditors of the above-named Company will be held at Highlands House, Basingstoke Road, Spencers Wood, Reading, RG7 1NT, on 11 March 2008, at 10.30 am for the purpose of dealing with Sections 99 to 101 of the Insolvency Act 1986.

A shareholders' meeting has been convened for 11 March 2008 to pass a resolution for the winding up of the company.

Secured creditors (unless they surrender their security) must give particulars of their security and its value if they wish to vote at the meeting.

The resolutions to be taken at the meeting may include a resolution specifying the terms on which the liquidators are to be remunerated including the basis on which disbursements are to be recovered from the company's assets and the meeting may receive information about, and be called upon to approve, the costs of preparing the statement of affairs and convening the meeting.

A full list of the names and addresses of the company's creditors may be examined free of charge at the offices of Nortons Recovery Limited, Highlands House, Basingstoke Road, Spencers Wood, Reading, RG7 1NT, between 10.00am and 4.00pm on the two business days prior to the day of the meeting. Dated: 20 February 2008
By Order of the Board
John Dick, Director

Marketing Manager, Pet Medicines, Foods and Accessories

Beaphar, home of the Sherley's, King British, Xtra Vital, Canac and Snowflake brands, is the leading supplier of "over-the-counter" pet healthcare products in Europe.

Our expanding business needs a marketing professional to ensure that our brands achieve their potential in the market place. You will have a post-graduate marketing qualification, experience of marketing to both trade and consumer audiences and man-management experience or potential. No prior experience of the pet trade is required, but an interest in animals would enhance your own job satisfaction. A drive to succeed, enthusiasm and commitment are essential.

In return, we offer a competitive remuneration package, a vibrant, entrepreneurial organisation and the support of a company dedicated to improving animal health whilst providing the best customer care.

If this sounds like the opportunity you have been looking for, please send a detailed CV stating your current salary and a brief covering letter marked "Private & Confidential" for the attention of:

Mechanical Technician

£20,000 – £22,000 (dependent on experience)

At Genzyme, we're proud of our reputation as one of the world's leading biotechnology companies. We've invested heavily in the development of products that will help us realise our ambitious plans for a year-on-year growth rate of 20 per cent by 2011. Our manufacturing plant in Haverhill will be key to our success. It is where we manufacture groundbreaking treatments for kidney disease.

Whether you're a seasoned professional or you're just starting out, the growth of our pipeline makes our Haverhill site the perfect place to build on your career. In the last five years we've invested $200 million in this area of the business and as we continue to move forward, we need to make sure that we have the support systems in place to increase our product offering. You'll monitor the plant equipment and utilities that we rely on, making sure that all work carried out meets standard operating procedures and good manufacturing practice. You'll also get the opportunity to work on a range of assets, including steam boilers, air compressors and cooling towers.

If you're willing to put the work in, there will be plenty of scope to progress. And the best part is that as our plant continues to grow, your responsibilities will too. All you need to succeed is the enthusiasm to learn new skills, a background in mechanical engineering and a City & Guilds or the equivalent in a relevant engineering discipline.

Closing date: 20th March 2008.

TRAIN AS A HOME INSPECTOR

Up to 2 million properties being sold every year now need Home Information Packs which must include an Energy Assessment carried out by a newly trained Home Inspector or Energy Assessor. Thousands more of these new professionals will be needed later this year for the rental sector when Government requires around 1.6 million properties being let in the first year to also have Energy Assessments.

This creates new and interesting career opportunities and we require people to train now as Home Inspectors in their spare time. No previous surveying experience is required.

Thousands more new Home Inspectors will also be needed if Government confirm Packs must include a currently optional Home Condition Report.

Current fee earning expectations are £60 to £80 for Energy Assessments and £200 to £300 for Home Condition Reports with up to 15 Assessments or 6 Reports estimated to be carried out in a week, depending on size of properties and supply.

Applicants should apply now for a limited number of training places at the Government's ABBE approved centres of Home Inspector Training near London and in Bristol, Birmingham and Manchester. (4-night accommodation package advice if required.) The Course consists mainly of 7 separately bookable one-week modules, taken over up to 10 months, if this long is needed, and is designed to enable most people to train around their current commitments.

On qualifying you are awarded the Government's ABBE Home Inspector Diploma and are able to carry out Assessments and Reports on your own, for other Pack Providers or, depending on the market share gained, for our own in-house Pack Provider in return for receiving a course subsidy. Once qualified, additional courses with qualifications now being researched may be available to carry out property valuations, Energy Assessments for commercial properties and flood and fire risk assessments to provide additional income streams. FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Knightly given licence to thrill

Grampian Gunners 18 Lawshall 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, UNDER-10

GRAMPIANS keeper Lewis Knightly started the match up front and promptly ran the visitors ragged, scoring two of several chances he had early on.

Jack Davis was welcomed back from injury in midfield and pulled all the strings, selflessly setting up all his team-mates on a plate.

Jack Ferguson fired in a cracker, then Jamie Lingard hit two wonder strikes and, towards the end of the half, Bailey Cassidy found the back of the net with two classy finishes. The second half saw Josh Matthewson return to his striking position hungry for the ball and he converted with his first three goalscoring chances, and turned creator to put George Mustoe in to score.

Jason Moore then hit one before Cassidy and Lingard completed their hat-tricks.

Mitchell Forshaw then decided to get in the on the act and became the fourth Gunner to get a treble before Lewis Whiting wrapped up the Gunners best-ever result.

Grampian Gunners 1 Huntingdon Rowdies 2

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, UNDER-14A

MANAGER Simon Youngs praised his side for their performance against title chasing Huntingdon on Sunday at the Sports Field.

He said “We deserved something out of the game and although we lost I was very pleased with their attitude and performance.”

Two goals down in the first 15 minutes, the home side then took the game to the visitors and should have been at least level at he break. Jackson and Halls missed good chances but Bailey mis-hit his shot with a gaping goal in front of him.

The second half saw Jackson and Palazon go close before Jackson rifled home from outside the box.

The Gunners could not get the equaliser but should be proud of the effort they put into the game.

■ ALL ACTION . . . Wrattling do battle with Walden. cp

Lambert can't stop scoring

Saffron Walden Tn 1 West Wrattling 4

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, UNDER-11A

GOALS from Lambert, his 38th strike of the campaign, Stevenson, Ager and Scotton gave Wrattling a deserved victory. The game was played in difficult conditions, the wind was strong and the ball refused to roll evenly on the Chesterford pitch. Elliott had an outstanding second half in midfield, Cooper showed skill down both flanks and assisted the defence when needed. Foster and Massie did not allow the Walden attack to settle, Ankers created space and had he been selfish could have grabbed goals himself. The talented Bush thoroughly deserved the opposition's man-of-the-match accolade.

Schulz seals cup passage

Huntingdon Rowdies 0 Haverhill Rvrs 1

S-TECH GIRLS LEAGUE CUP, UNDER-13D

AFTER a few weeks off, Haverhill had a successful raid on Huntingdon to win through to the last eight of the cup.

Most of the first half was played in Haverhill territory, but the home side were unable to trouble the visitors' keeper. And Haverhill did manage to score into the wind when Amy Hull sent a through ball to Katie Schulz whose powerful shot crashed into the back of the net.

Despite having the wind at their backs after the break, Haverhill created plenty but could not add to their one-goal margin.

Haverhill 1 Peterborough 0

EASTERN REGION WOMEN'S LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

ROVERS took a massive step towards safety in the Premier Division with a 1-0 victory over Peterborough, their first league win since December.

Rovers attacked Peterborough throughout the game and created many chances, but it took them until the 70th minute to hit the front.

Kelly Taylor's cross was played to the back post where Sarah Gee volleyed the ball home, and they held on for the win.

FOOTBALL: LATE GOALS ROB TAYLOR'S SIDE

Vowden misery

RIDGEONS LEAGUE CUP, SEMI-FINAL

COLIN Vowden suffered late heartbreak when he put through his own goal as Haverhill lost in the semi-finals of the Ridgeons League Cup.

The hosts looked set to force extra-time after Lee Wilson's dangerous free-kick was poked into his own net by a Gorleston defender with 10 minutes remaining.

But the visitors, who had gone ahead early in the first half, advanced to the final when the experienced Vowden toe-poked past his own goalkeeper.

Steve Taylor's men will look to bounce back when they travel to Mildenhall in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division on Saturday.

■ Meanwhile on Saturday, Haverhill were rocked by an equaliser in stoppage time after leading twice in their 2-2 Ridgeons League, Premier Division draw at Ipswich Wanderers.

Vowden side-footed a Wilson cross into the path of Russell Bull to score Rovers' first on 34 minutes.

But they were punished for some sloppy play two minutes after the break when Jamie Thurlbourne got caught in possession, and Ipswich were given room to head in.

Bull played a part in the second Haverhill goal on 79 minutes when he laid the ball off for Nick Impey to score.

However, once again Wanderers were given a helping hand for their equaliser.

With two minutes added on, Marcus Hunt back-headed the ball into the path of an Ipswich substitute who gratefully accepted the chance.

■ ALL IN VAIN... Nick Impey, above, netted in Haverhill's 2-2 draw at Ipswich on Saturday. However, they were dumped out of the Ridgeons League Cup on Tuesday after Colin Vowden's (inset) own goal gifted Gorleston the victory.

RUGBY UNION

Wiffen-led Haverhill
out of luck

MILES Wiffen touched down three times in two matches as Haverhill Mini-Midi's Under-7s pushed Wendens Ambo to the limit.

In the first clash, an end-to-end affair, Wiffen crossed the paint twice while Matt Pass, Oliver Jury and Billy Notley each scored once as Haverhill ran in five well-constructed tries. But Wendens themselves crossed the tryline regularly and in a great show of defence, held out Haverhill to win 7-5.

A number of new faces were introduced for Haverhill for the return fixture.

And they put in a great performance with Wiffen and Notley again among the tries, each scoring one apiece.

But despite further touchdowns from Tiff Shannon and player-of-the-day Oscar Howard, Haverhill were again edged out by two tries, losing 6-4.

Woodland bounce back in style

AFTER losing their first game of their league campaign last week to SC Sudbury 8-1, Woodland bounced back to progress to the final of the Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League's J Walker Flooring Division Four Knockout Cup.

Woodland annihilated Glemsford & Cavendish in their semi-final clash 9-1, to tee up a final showdown against rivals SC Sudbury.

Sudbury defeated Lionhearts 3-0 to confirm what is expected to be a highly-charged and exciting affair.

With a Suffolk Sunday Trophy semi-final against Red Herring looming this Sunday, Grampian Sunday faced rivals Barnadiston Arms in the first round of the Multimodal Logistics Division Three Knockout Cup.

Goals for Matthew Emler (2), Danny Hill and Craig Dickson showed Grampian are in good nick heading into the Herring clash with a 4-2 victory. In Sunday's other trophy semi-final, Melford Swan will be in action against 905, who slumped to a 1-0 defeat to Figleaves in Division Four.

In Division One, the only unbeaten side in the league this season, Haverhill Bull, managed to grab a point with a 3-3 draw at home to Cole Green.

Goals from Chris Claydon, Jamie Warner and Craig Cutts ensured the Bull remain undefeated.

In Division Three, Kedington White Horse recorded a comfortable 7-2 victory over Cornard Hammers with hat-tricks for Simon Goodings and Michael Chilcott. Jamie Probyn scored the other goal which surely sees the White Horse move away from relegation danger. Boxford Rovers were unforgiving against struggling Stoke By Clare with a large 9-1 victory.

In Division Five, Herbert Lions beat

Sudbury Black Horse 9-3 courtesy of four goals from Ross Arnold, two from Lee Duffield and a goal each from Michael Chandler, Jason Willett and Shane Pearson.

Arrendene Athletic were held away from home for the second successive game after they were denied victory by a last minute penalty. Athletic scored from Alan Brittain, Aaron Stiebrins and a spot kick from Tom Farlie to finish 3-3.

And Delaware Feather Angels lost to Boxford Rovers reserves 4-2, despite goals from Lewis Townsend and Liam Botten.
